Her enthusiasm and deep love for her husband Tommy (who also works at Cooper Realty Associates), her children, grandchildren and life-long friends is not only refreshing but contagious. While away from the office, you can find Connie playing golf, fishing, traveling abroad to alluring and distant countries, (Greece and Italy being her favorite), or enjoying long walks with her felicitous bundle of joy, Karma, a 3 year old Shi-Poo (Shih-tzu-Poodle mix)!

Connie - Your confidence and on-target marketing strategies were the key to selling our property... -A & M Lewes DE

For Connie, the most meaningful part of her profession is focusing on customer care and service, possessing a tremendous capacity to empathize with others as they begin the journey of buying or selling their home. Not only did she raise three children as a single mom, working two to three jobs while also attending college (forgoing many luxuries and comforts along the way), but she made sure her kids had everything they needed; (both physically and emotionally), never missing a single sports event or school activity, as she remained focused and determined to better their lives. As quoted by Connie; "One of the happiest times in my life was when I was able to buy my first home for me and my three children."

Trademarks of distinction.

As a successful and professional real estate agent since 2004, Connie brings a bounty of wealth to the table for each potential client that walks through her doors. She is knowledgeable and eminently sage in both the needs of a buyer or seller, taking a decidedly amiable, reliable and stellar approach to each transaction.

Connie currently, as well as for the past six years, has successfully completed hundreds of property valuation reports for numerous banks, fulfilling their need of obtaining efficient property values. Her involvement with these monthly reports, keeps her fully engaged with the ever changing market, thus she is able to give the most current and trustworthy information to her clients.

As quoted by Connie; "I believe buying or selling a home is a life changing experience. My clients are not just a client; they are people with families and lives. I treat each patron just as I would my own family, going the extra mile to make sure every step of their transaction is pleasurable and smooth."
